

I would just like to state my opinion on the no call list. I feel that it is great, I can finally answer my phone again and not worry about getting unwanted calls. Before I was on the no call list I received about 35 calls a day (no exaggeration), now I might get a few a month.